We have received an invitation to the Eleventh Annual Commencement Assembly to be held at Armory Hall, Lewisburg, on June 24th, for which the committee has our thanks.

The male choir of the Y. M. C. A. contains some good voices, and their singing at the Sunday afternoon exercises is one of the most attractive features.

Julius Lindegren the Piano Tuner has gone out of town but, will be back in three or four weeks. Any orders left at Peacock's Hardware store will be attended to.

J. A. Olmstead, representing the Williamsport Medicine Co. was in town on Wednesday. He drove a fine team and a very showy wagon. Read their announcement in another column.

The Senior Class at the Normal will send out 1750 invitations to the Commencement exercises. The invitations are engraved, and are very neat. They were ordered at THE COLUMBIAN office.

When extra copies of a newspaper of any particular issue are wanted, the order should be left at the printing office a few days in advance, as only a limited number of extra copies are printed unless specially ordered.

Elisha Brugler of Hemlock township drove to Bloomsburg on Wednesday with a load of chickens. Their legs were tied, and they were laid in the bottom of the wagon box. On his arrival here fourteen were dead from the extreme heat, and those that were alive were showing evidences of suffering from the same cause.

Mrs. Elijah Strohm died at her residence, corner of East and Fourth street last Sunday morning about five o'clock. She has been afflicted for some time past, having had a severe attact of the grip, during the winter, it left her in a feeble condition from which she never recovered. Her age was 82 years and 15 days. Funeral Services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, in the Evangelical church after which the body was taken to Danville and interred in Odd Fellows Grave Yard. Her husband, one daughter Mrs. Robert Roan, and a son James Strohm survive her.

The report of the death of Gomer Thomas of Danville proved incorrect. He was badly injured but not killed. The following account of the accident is taken from a Danville paper:

Mr. Gomer Thomas narrowly escaped death while crossing the railroad an Centre Street, Milton, Wednesday morning of last week. He was driving his team of horses hitched to a carriage over the road when the Niagara Express struck the rear end of the vehicle. tossing it and Mr. Thomas fifteen feet in the air. He was badly cut about the right ear and head and received severe bruises around the right shoulder and back. A timely cut from the whip on the horses was the only thing that saved Mr. Thomas' life. His cuts were sewed and wounds dressed, when he was able to return to Danville by rail.

THE LOWENBERG STORE.

There is no business establishment in Bloomsburg better known than Lowenberg's Clothing Store. For more than forty years it has been in operation, and during all that time it has enjoyed a wide reputation for honest goods, at the lowest prices. The founder of this business, David Lowenberg was born in Bavaria, Germany, in the year 1823. His parents were farmers, and had six other children. Early in life David was apprenticed to the trade of clothmaking. At the conclusion of his apprenticeship of three years he began work as a journeyman, and continued at the same nine years. In 1848 he came to this country, landing at New York. After remaining there a short time he moved to Wilkes-Barre, from which latter point he came to Bloomsburg in 1850. Here he opened a small tailoring establishment upon the site of the large wholesale and retail clothing emporium. In 1871 his frame store building was destroyed by fire on July 4th, and he erected the present large three story building which adorns Main street, to meet the demands of his extensive and rapidly increasing trade. Soon after his settlement in Bloomsburg, he began to manifest his interest in local and general politics. In the Buchanan campaign he was chosen chairman of the Democratic County Committee, a position in which he acceptably served the party for many years. He represented this district in the National Convention from 1864 to 1884 except in 1872, when he was an elector upon the State ticket; and he was also a delegate to most of our State Conventions, In the fall of 1869, he was chosen County Treasurer, and served as such for the years of 1870 and 1871. For many years he was president of the Town Council, and as such gave general satisfaction.

Mr. Lowenberg was of Hebrew descent and religion. His charity, however, knew no narrow limits of creed or bigotry. No man ever ranked higher in citizenship in this town of Bloomsburg than he. Ever industrious in business, and yet so conducting his work as to add to the common stock of knowledge and understanding; never puffed up by position, yet requiring that obedience and submission requisite for due administration of affairs; courteous and affable, kind and condescending, he was a model ruler of Bloomsburg for many years as President of the Councils, and many a family in want could testifiy to the goodness of his heart. On the morning of June 8th 1887, Mr. Lowenberg died suddenly, at the age of 64 years. No citizen of Bloomsburg has ever had so much respect paid to his memory as was shown to him.

All places of business were closed during the funeral, which was attended by thousands from all over the county and over one hundred persons accompanied the remains to South Wilkesbarre, by special train, for interment.

Since his death the business has been conducted by his family, the oldest son, Louis, being the general manager, very ably assisted by John R. Townsend, who has been in the store for twenty one years. This store has always carried a large stock of clothing, gents' furnishing goods, neck wear, hats, caps, trunks &c, at one time running as high as $30,000, and it is not much below that now. Especial attention is given to the cutting and fitting department, and a large line of goods is kept in stock for suits made to order. Customers are always treated most courteously, and the long continued prosperity of this house bears testimony to its commercial standing. It is properly designated as the "Old Reliable."

DEDICATION SERVICES.

A large congregation assembled in the new Presbyterian church in Bloomsburg on the afternoon of Thursday June 11th, to take part in the Dedication Services. The Rev. Dr. Mutchmon of Philadelphia, Editor of the Presbyterian preached the sermon. His talk was on Psalms 84. He drew illustrations from the habits of the sparrow and swallow of the Christian's devotion to and benefits from the Sanctuary. The Services were participated in by Reverends Dr. Stuart Mitchell a former pastor, C. Austin of Lewisburg, E. A. Armstrong of Danville and S. Sears of the M. E. church of Bloomsburg. After the sermon a statement was read by the pastor,setting forth the cost of several items, and of the whole. He stated that a balance of $6000 yet remained to be raised before the dedication. Subcription papers were passed around and it was soon announced that the whole amount was subscribed to be paid either at once or on instalments. Upon this announcement the whole congregation joined in singing the long Metre Doxology. The church was then solemly dedicated to the worship of the Triune God. Thus ended a service to which the congregation had looked forward, for the three years in which it was being erected, with deepest interest.

It was with no small feeling of gratification, that the members looked around them to this beautiful and commodious building thanking God that they could take possession without being encumbered with a debt which so surely rests as an incubus upon a church's energies. The acoustic properties were found by actual test to be perfect and the accommodiations sufficient for a considable growth.

In the evening the Rev. Mr. Steans of Danville preached to an appreciative audiance on the work of the Holy Spirit.

EAST BENTON.

Game is very plenty, rabbits run the streets of Cambra in the evening to the great amusement of the boys.

All the crops except rye, in the hail stricken section, are fast recovering the effects of the storm.

Mrs. Lavina Straw and her daughter Annie are visiting at Judge Krickbaum's. Mrs. Straw and Mrs Krickbaum are sisters.

There is a prospect for an abundance of all kinds of fruit.

George Cary, of Cambra has returned from Washington State. He and a score more took a journey thence last spring seeking more remunerative employment and better advantages. Last week he and Blell Harrison were received by their friends safe and sound.

"Home, home, sweet home,
"There is no place like home.

In speaking of tariff, protection and taxes, Mrs. Spinnogle said, she "believed that they were bad men, for she heard so much of their robbing, plundering and stealing, and they ought all to be in the penitentiary.

Our public roads are being put in better condition.

The Fishingcreek "Road Scraper" is relegated to the grove at St. James a condemned public nusiance. It has not been used by the road officials of that township this year. What is the matter with it gentlemen? Ours is doing efficient service here. Our prejudice has been overcome in spite of ourself by its good qualities appealing to our better judgment.

BENTON ITEMS.

Messrs. Wesley & Smith are running their planing mill with all the men they can employ. They are crowded with work.

The shirt factory is a hive of industry. On the first floor all goods are cut and prepared for the sewing machines. On the second floor are about 60 girls each with a sewing machine—all machines being run by steam power. The girls work by the piece. Their rapidity in handling goods, and feeding the machines, would indicate that each one was trying to outdo the other in the number of shirts made each day.

Appleman Bros. are very busy at their wheelwright factory. Their factory is the only one of the kind in this section. They take the hard wood from the stump, haul it to the factory, split, saw and trim into spokes. Their trade is increasing and no doubt they will soon be compelled to enlarge their factory.

John A. Chapin has a fine lot of summer goods consisting of fly-nets, lap spreads, whips and fine light harness. Parties in need of harness should call and see stock and prices.

G. L. and C. B. McHenry have a beautiful store room and are prompt in attendance upon their customers.

Jno. J. McHenry & Son have a large stock of all style goods and are ready to meet their numerous customers with good bargains.

Alfred McHenry since enlarging his store has added a much larger stock, which has brought him an immense trade. It is a query now how he could do business in the old little store room. His present one is one foot more than twice the size of the old one.

H. O McHenry is building a beautiful residence. He has selected a modern plan, almost wholly different from any in the town. He is a close observer in the progress of the building and will see that all the latest improvements are placed upon it. When completed it will be a very desirable residence.

WALLER.

Rev. Hamlin preached a very able sermon on Sunday evening, from the words: "Occupy until I come," dwelling chiefly on physical, mental and moral education.

Miss Ella McHenry and Messrs. Clarence Butt and Abner Everhart were among the number who came up from Bloom on Saturday to visit their friends and take in the festival.

This seems to be a good place for holding festivals in the way of dollars and cents for the receipts were larger this year than last and that was thought to be very good. One hundred and twenty-seven dollars and seventy cents was taken in, netting over eighty dollars. The attendance was large and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

Some of our neighbors have had cherry pies already, but we have not been fortunate enough to find any yet.

The exceeding hot weather is making the corn grow at a wonderful rate, and with some more rain occasionally it ought to be a good crop this year.

Grass is very poor as a general thing around here; but the grain looks well.

Some from this vicinity expect to attend the Friends Half-year meeting which is held at Millville this week.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.

A TOWER FOR ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

The members of St. Paul's P. E. Church of Bloomsburg, are jubilant over the prospect of the completion of their church building, by the erection of a handsome stone tower. On Monday evening last a joint meeting of members of the Ladies' Guild, the Young People's Guild, and the Vestry, was held at the Rectory, and the following paper was presented:

To the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Paul's Church, Bloomsburg, Penna.:

MESSRS: The undersigned proposes to build, by and with the consent and approval of the vestry, a tower to the said church, in harmony as to style and material, with the existing church building, and according to the plans, drawings and specifications submitted to you for approval by John Evans a builder, now present. The Tower is erected as a memorial to the children of John G. Freeze and Margaret his wife.

Mr. Freeze has requested Mr. Geo. S. Robbins to represent him in the details and management of the construction, and he has kindly consented to do so; and Mr. Freeze desires also that two members of the Vestry be appointed to act with Mr. Robbins, which committee shall secure the necessary bonds for faithful performance, pass upon the materials and workmanship and upon approval draw bills upon the undersigned for payment thereof. The height of the Tower shall not be less than sixty-eight feet, and the entire cost shall not exceed Three thousand dollars:

Mr. Freeze wishes Mr. George E. Elwell and Mr. Paul E. Wirt to be the committee on the part of the vestry. Mr. Freeze desires the work to be commenced at the earliest date possible, and pushed to completion as rapidly as it can be perfectly done.

June 15, 1891. JOHN G. FREEZE.

The Rector, Rev. W. C. Leverett offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS: John G. Freeze Esq., has offered to complete the tower of St. Paul's Church, at his own expense,

Resolved, that the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of the Parish desire to place on record their high appreciation of his generous act and gratefully accept his offer.

Resolved, That this action be entered on the minutes of the Vestry, and that a copy be sent to Col. Freeze.

ATTEST: J. H. MAIZE, SEC.

In 1870 the church was completed with the exception of a stone spire which was part of the original plan. It would have cost at that time, about five thousand dollars to put up the spire, and so it was left to be completed at some future time. Since then the congregation has paid off a debt of nearly ten thousand dollars, and built a Rectory at a cost of about seven thousand dollars, so that while progressing all the time, it has not been able to reach a point where the completion of the spire could be undertaken.

The large hearted generosity of Col. Freeze has removed the difficulty, and the tower which he will erect will make the edifice more imposing than the originally contemplated spire. It will be of the same kind of stone as the church, and will be begun at once, and completed as rapidly as possible.

But this is not all that makes the Episcopalians happy. They propose to erect a Parish House on the grounds adjoining the church, this summer, which will be ready for occupancy, they hope, by Thanksgiving, certainly by Christmas. This house will be of stone, corresponding in architecture to the church, and connected with the latter by cloisters. It will contain a chapel, Sunday School room, parlors, kitchen and all that is necessary to make it complete. The cost will be six thousand dollars, of which the several Guilds will provide one half, having already nearly enough on hand, and the other half has been subscribed by individuals, at least on Monday evening only sixty dollars more was needed to make up the amount. The matter is in charge of a General Committee composed of members of the Vestry and the Guilds. With the new tower and the new Parish House already provided for, other needed additions in the way of interior decoration are contemplated which must come soon. When all is completed St. Paul's Parish will own one of the finest church properties in Eastern Pennsylvania. It will all be done before the centennial celebration of the Parish in 1893.

Do not fail to see the "Cradle Songs of Many Nations" as given by the Young People's Guild in Miss. Armstrong's school-room on Thursday evening June 25th. It will be well worth seeing as well as hearing for the costumes of the singers will be the national ones of the countries.

There is a split in the Republican party in Lancaster county, over the Judgeship. The board of return judges have declared H. C. Brubaker the regular nominee and the friends of Judge Livingston claim that the latter was cheated out of the nomination and will put him in the field. H. M. North will probably be the Democratic nominee, and the prospects of his election are good.

PAWNEE BILL.

Pawnee Bill's historical Wild West will appear at Athletic Park Bloomsburg Saturday, June 27th 1891 afternoon and evening. The exhibition will be under a Mammoth Canvass where will be exhibited a herd of trained Spotted Mustangs, the largest herd of American Buffaloes in captivity, also Indian Ponies, Texas Steers, Bronchos and Burros. The play will embrace life upon the frontier as experienced in the capture of Buffaloes, the wild steer, and the thrilling drama of Indian Life.

George W. Lillie (Pawnee Bill) was born at Bloomington, Ill. When but a boy he went West, and at Wichita, Kas., joined a party of trappers and hunters, "Trapper Tom's Outfit." He took naturally to the trail, its hardships and adventures, and before three months had passed, he was one of Trapper Tom's most valued assistants.

In the Summer through the influence of Senator David Davis, and Generals A. E. Stevenson and John McNulty, and Major M. W. Packard, Pawnee Bill was appointed by Hon. Hiram Price, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, a Secretary to the Government Agent, and Professor of the Indian Industrial School at Pawnee Agency; which position he continued to fill until the next Spring, when he resigned and went on the "round up" for the Hutton and the old Wilson or Zimmerman ranche, whose range at that time was on the Skeleton.

Afterward he became interpreter, trader, and guide, and finally led in the settlement of Oklahoma. The following shows how well the entertainment has been received elsewhere:

Many thousand people were present yesterday at the Exposition to witness Pawnee Bill's Wild West. The Exhibition is a good one and worthy of all success.—Pittsburg Times, June 2, 1888.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West was visited by the largest crowd ever known at the Park. The gate receipts showing the presence of 7,500 people.—Cleveland, O. Plain Dealer, July 21, 1890.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West is a varied one, and a model entertainment. The crowds at both performances were very large and appreciative.—Detroit, Mich., Free Press. Aug. 8, 1890.

Large audiences visited Pawnee Bill's Wild West yesterday. It surpasses any exhibition of the kind ever visiting Canada.—Montreal, Canada, Herald, Aug. 21, 1890.

Over 300,000 people visited the exhibition in Philadelphia.

MR. LACEY'S STATEMENT

He Says Drew Did Not Report Correctly.

THE BANK'S TRUE STATE CONCEALED

But Whether This Was Done Intentionally or Carlessly the Controller Does Not Hazard an Opinion—The Examiner Pleaded for Delay in His Early Letters.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The statement prepared by Controller Lacey and sent to Mayor Stuart, of Philadelphia, on the course pursued by him with the Keystone bank of that city has just been made public. The statement includes the letter of Bank Examiner Drew of Jan. 24, notifying him of the $600,000 defalcation of Lucas, the late president of the bank. In this letter Mr. Drew explains how by adroit manipulation of the accounts of the bank Lucas, with the assistance of Marsh, the former cashier of the bank, abstracted large sums of money from the bank to use in speculations in real estate. Marsh, he reported, was ignorantly led into these transactions, and promised Lucas when the latter was on his deathbed to continue the deception under representations that the money abstracted would soon be returned to the bank from the result of Lucas' enterprises.

Drew Pleaded for Marsh.

Drew also reported that there was no evidence that Marsh had profited by these irregularities. He closed by hoping that no publicity be given to the affair until the bank should be rehabilitated or all efforts to that end were found futile. Accompanying this letter was a preliminary statement of the bank's condition, which left the capital stock of half a million intact and a net surplus of $55,819. Later on—Jan. 27—Mr. Drew in an interview with the controller at Washington stated that in his judgment and in the opinion of the clearing house committee the property conveyed to the bank by the Lucas estate was equal in value to the indebtedness which had been concealed, and that in any event the creditors of the bank were entirely safe; also that to sever Marsh's connection with the bank would excite suspicion, and that Marsh was thoroughly repentent and was actuated by an ardent desire to do all in his power to assist the bank in recovering any sums which had been improperly taken from it.

Why He Did Not Close the Bank.

Mr. Lacey says he did not close the bank for the reason that he had no lawful authority to do so upon the facts submitted, and for the further reason that he was advised by Bank Examiner Drew that the capital of the bank was unimpaired; that the creditors were therefore fully protected and that prompt efforts would be made to replenish the cash by deposits of $300,000 to be made by the leading directors and stockholders, which should place it in funds until its own assets became available. Further and later reports from Drew convinced the comptroller that the board of directors were slow in putting matters in a satisfactory condition, so on March 7 he levied an assessment of $250,000 upon the shareholders on the promise from a committee of directors of the bank that the assessment would be paid within a week. On March 14 Mr. Drew complained of little active support from the directors on the effort to rehabilitate the bank. This reached the comptroller on the 16th, and three days later he closed the bank. The bank then remained in charge of the examiner for fifty-one days.

Lacey Answers His Critics.

In answer to criticisms for delay in appointing a receiver, Mr. Lacey says it was not made immediately because it was the duty of the comptroller to facilitate a resumption of business by the bank. It was important, considering all the business and municipal ramifications which the failure involved, that plenty of time be given for developments, in order to avoid the appointment of some improper and interested person. No person, he says, can show that any creditor, debtor or stockholder has been damaged to the extent of one dollar by reason of the delay.

What Mr. Wanamaker Did.

The controller states that Postmaster General Wanamaker "never directly or indirectly suggested or solicited one day's delay in the closing of the bank, nor in the appointment of a receiver, except as appears by the telegram hereinafter quoted. In fact, I have met him but once during the present year, and that meeting was on March 21, at the suggestion and in the presence of Hon. A. B. Nettleton, then acting secretary of the treasury. This interview was the day after the Keystone bank was closed, and the failure was fully discussed.

"He substantially confirmed the information I received from Mr. Marsh, and said that he held as a pledge certificates representing about 2,500 shares of stock in the Keystone bank, and that he had declined to surrender them unless the Lucas estate would pay him the amount his due. I urged him to use his influence in aid of the efforts being made to reopen the bank. He promised to look into the matter the same night on his return to Philadelphia, and I telegraphed Mr. Drew to call upon him with a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank and to facilitate in every way possible his taking an active interest in the schemes for reorganization. I failed, however, in my attempt to enlist him in the enterprise, and so ended all communication between us on any subject connected with the bank's affairs, excepting the receipt of the following telegram:

Mr. Wanamaker's Telegram.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2, 1891.

Hon. Edward S. Lacey, Controller:

Mr. Marsh, of the Keystone bank, came down last night to say that it was reported you intend to appoint a receiver of the Keystone unless something more definite was done today. I believe nothing would suffer from giving them twenty-four hours longer, at the end of which they may put on paper something more definite to be presented to you. From what he says they are getting along pretty well in securing subscriptions to the new stock. I would recommend the appointment of a receiver be deferred, say, one day, until he had an opportunity to state something more definite. JOHN WANAMAKER.

He Blames Examiner Drew.

In concluding the statement Mr. Lacey says: "I deem it my duty to say that, in my opinion, the several reports made by the bank examiner did not reflect the true condition of the bank under consideration. The degree of blame, if any, which properly attaches to Mr. Drew is yet to be ascertained. He is entitled, by reason of his long and hitherto acceptable service, to an impartial investigation and a fair hearing. He has recently been so fully employed, by reason of the failure of the Keystone and Spring Garden national banks, that it has as yet been impracticable to give the matter the consideration its importance demands."

Foster Suspends Drew.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—The latest development of interest in the Philadelphia financial muddle is the suspension of Bank Examiner Drew by Secretary Foster.

More Startling Evidence.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—There was some very startling evidence produced before the Bardsley investigating committee, and prominent United States officials' names were brought into the case in a manner entirely unexpected to the majority of the committee. Assistant Bank Examiner Jones stated that on the 13th day of last February Controller Lacey was in this city and personally visited the Keystone bank building and was shown the books and given a full insight into its condition as known at that time by Bank Examiner Drew.

Another sensation was the statement made by General Louis Wagner, the ex-director of public works. This statement connected the name of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton with the attempt to make Nelson F. Evans, director of the Spring Garden National bank, receiver of the broken Keystone bank. Mr. Nettleton has been a heavy borrower at the Spring Garden bank.

Before the committee adjourned to go into executive session Mayor Stuart's private secretary, Louis Bettler, arrived with a message to the members of the committee. It contained the report of the experts who are now investigating the accounts of John Bardsley and created another sensation. The experts reported that they have discovered another embezzlement of City Treasurer Bardsley and that it amounted to $400,000.

This is in addition to all sums hitherto reported. The missing $400,000 is money which the state had paid over to John Bardsley as city treasurer as the share of Philadelphia school fund to be applied to educational purposes. The experts find that the money was paid over to Bardsley, but that it was never turned over to the city.

This is a loss to the city which, added to the lost money locked up in the two broken banks, will aggregate a total loss to the city of $1,000,000 and to the state of $1,200,000—in all $2,200,000 so far found.

The supreme court has decided that Wright, not Oellers, is entitled to succeed Bardsley as city treasurer of Philadelphia. This is a victory for Governor Pattison.

Did Yard Get the Cash?

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Unless the indications of the day's developments in the Bardsley case are deceptive the investigation is probably close to finding out the whole remarkable story. The puzzle of what Bardsley did with all the vast sums of money he stole is not likely to be a puzzle much longer. According to the present indications it was not politics, nor a desire to enrich his friends, nor any other of the improbable causes that have been suggested, but a sort of blind pool in southern speculations that wrecked the Keystone bank, drained the city treasury and brought "Honest John" Bardsley face to face with a lifelong imprisonment. The center of the pool and the chief actor in the whole story is alleged to be H. H. Yard, who came to this city and surrendered himself last evening.

SIX MINISTERS PUT OUT.

Exciting Scenes at the Reformed Presbyterian Synod at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 11.—The six young Reformed Presbyterian ministers on trial for advocating the privilege of voting at civil elections have been expelled by the synod. The early part of the morning session of the synod was occupied in discussing the resolutions introduced by the Rev. Joseph McCracken. When the Rev. Mr. Smith, of Baltimore, rose to speak he stated that he could not believe in the position taken by the Covenanter church. "I am going to resign my pastorate next Sabbath and leave the church," he said.

The remark created a great sensation. There was a strong desire to applaud Mr. Smith's declaration, and it was with difficulty that the Liberalists kept their feelings within the bounds of propriety. The Conservatives, however, were victorious by a vote of 99 to 37.

The Rev. J. R. J. Milligan here arose and said: "I want to enter my appeal from the decision of this court and appeal to the judgment of a higher court, from which there is no appeal. I now bid all my brethren in the Covenanter church farewell."

The Rev. John Teaz, a missionary stationed at Selma, Ala., arose and requested the synod to give him a letter of dismission, saying that he could no longer conscientiously remain in the church.

The Rev. J. F. Carson, of Brooklyn, announced his withdrawal from the Covenanter church. The Rev. W. L. C. Jackson and the Rev. W. H. Reed followed in a similar strain.

The charges against the suspended ministers were scandal, libel and following diverse courses in declaring in favor of the right of franchise at a meeting in the east end of this city. Their names are E. M. Milligan, J. R. J. Milligan, W. H. Reed, W. L. C. Jackson and O. B. Milligan.

John McManus Must Die.

HARRISBURG, June 16.—A warrant for the execution of John McManus at Philadelphia on Aug. 20 has been issued by Governor Pattison.

Pure Rye Whiskey.

One year ago we had 5000 gallons of Old Rye Whiskey in Bond, which was considered a large stock to carry and sufficient for the trade. The demand, however, for our whiskey became such, that we were compelled to increase the capacity of our distillery, in order to give the whiskey some age before placing it on the market.

We are now making over a barrel a day; having a daily capacity of over 50 gals. and carrying a stock of 11,000 gals. in Bond. We hope to give our patrons the benefit of the age and will sell no whiskey under six months, and from that up to three years. No second hand barrels are used at our Distillery; all our whiskey is bonded in new, clean, charred, barrels, and for purity and quality we defy competition.

We have never distilled a bushel of corn, and we do hereby guarantee ALL our whiskey to be absolutely Pure Rye and doubled on a copper lined still and to any person who will find any drugs or corn in our whiskey as it leaves our Distilllery or Salesroom, we will forfeit $500.00.

FRIDAY JUNE 19, 1891.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 15, 1891.

Representative Hayes, of Iowa, who is a wide awake democrat, stopped in Washington long enough to leave some good news for his party friends. He says that Iowa can confidently be counted in the democratic column for 1892. Of the third party, he said: "They could have done something if they had shown more judgment, but they met there in Cincinnati and tried to make a party that could stand on every sort of crank theory that was proposed. They merely got on the platform and kissed each other and let the cranks run the convention. I do not believe they can organize now so as to have any influence on the election in Iowa, either this fall or in '92." Being asked who the republicans would nominate for President, Mr. Hayes replied: "Harrison. I think he is the only man mentioned who thinks there is enough in the nomination to make it worth fighting for, and the party has got to take him. If Blaine wanted the nomination all that Harrison or anybody else could do would not prevent his getting it, but Blaine understands the present condition of the republican party so well that he dosen't want the nomination."

"There's going to be some mighty lively democratic music before long," said a close friend of Senator Gorman to-day, "if a certain class of men who are trying to dictate the next candidate of the democratic party, and who never voted a straight democratic ticket in their lives, do not let up in their under-hand mud-throwing at Arthur Gorman. His friends have stood it about as long as they intend to, and as they know where it all comes from they will know where and how to hit back."

The Examiners in the Patent office, who have made a practice of rejecting many applications for patents that should have been granted, in order to feed the inventors for an attorneys' fee a little later on, when they shall have accumulated a sufficient number of these unjustly rejected cases to justify them in resigning and going into business as Patent attorneys, with a clientage made up almost entirely of the inventors whose applications they had unjustly rejected when Examiners, are in a state of mind over a ruling of Hon. Charles F. Mitchell, Commissioner of Patents, which prohibits the appearance before that office of an ex employe as attorney or agent in any case upon which he had passed while an employe. Their little game, which had grown into a mammoth abuse, is ended, and the inventors of the country now have reason to hope that their applications will in the first place be honestly dealt with, as they will be if Mr. Mitchell's new and excellent rule shal. be as strictly enforced by his successors as by him.

Representative Mills will remain in Washington the greater portion of the summer engaged in literary work. He is not doing any talking for publication on political subjects, and thinks that the numerous fake interviews with him that have recently appeared in prominent newspapers, are a part of a plan to injure his prospects of being elected Speaker of the House by making him appear ridiculous. He wishes his friends to know that any interview porporting to give his opinions on the fitness of any candidate, either for the Speakership or for the Presidency is entirely spurious, as he has expressed no such opinions.

Col. W. W. Didley says the anti-Harrison republicans, made fools of themselves by holding their recent conference at Indianapolis, and that the conference amounted to nothing except an attempt of Gresham's friends to bring him out as a candidate. This is taken here to mean that Col. Dudley will support Harrison, as had been rumored a short time ago.

Senator Quay, who was here a few days ago told his friends that he would not remain at the head of the republican committee during the coming campaign, but whether he really intends to retire or is bluffing is a matter of doubt.

Much ugly talk connecting various members of the administration with complicity in the crooked Philadelphia bank failures, has been indulged in here during the last few days, but the only thing definite is that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton acknowledges that he is endorser upon some notes, amount not stated, held by one of these banks. It looks as though Examiner Drew was to be made the scape-goat.

The following is the personnel of the private land claims court; Chief Justice, J. M. Reed, of Iowa; Associate Justice, W. H. Stone, of Colorado; H. G. Sluss, of Kansas; T. C. Fuller, of North Carolina, and W. W. Murray, of Tennessee. Two of these are democrats.

The latest developement in the Bardsley case is that he has used a half million of dollars of the state appropriation for the Philadelphia schools. Under his manipulations as City Treasurer about $2,000,000 have been embezzled.

Money for Schools.

There are nearly twenty-three hundred school districts in the State, none of which has received its appropriation except Philadelphia, whose school year ends on December 31, while all the rest terminate their year on the first Monday of June. Between two and three hundred of the school districts have submitted the necessary documents to the Department of Public Instruction to secure the amounts due them, but owing to the complications which the appointment of Professor Snyder as Superintendent of Public Instruction has introduced, the required warrents on the Treasury have not been made out by Professor Waller, and if they were presented to the State Treasurer for payment they would not be honored, because of the legal dispute as to the right of the incumbent to perform the duties of the office he holds. There are due the various school districts nearly $1,600,000, in addition to the amounts owing the country School Superintendents for the last quarter, aggreegating about $20,000. None of these moneys will be paid out until the present controversy is settled by a judical opinion from the highest court or an amicable agreement is reached to treat the acts of the acting Superintendant as legal, pending the proceedings to oust him from his office.

There are in the general fund of the State Treasury nearly $3,000,000, and owing to the losses to which the State Treasurer has been subjected in the collapse of two banking institutions in which State moneys were deposited and the financial unrest which City Treasurer Bardsley's rascality has produced the early liquidation of the State's indebetedness for the maintenance of the public schools would be very acceptable to Mr. Boyer, who has had quite enough of the power which enables him to select the banks in which to deposit the public moneys.

The appropriation under the bill allowing the schools of Pennsylvania $5,000,000 a year, instead of $2,000,000 as now, is not payable until the first Monday in June, 1892. Then each district will be entitled to $2.50 for every $1 paid to it at present. The appropriations to the schools are made according to the number of taxables in each district, and the rate distributable is $1.38 3 10 for every taxable. The rate per taxable when the $5,000,000 are paid out to the school directors will be $3.45.75.

THE SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS GOVERNOR PATTISON'S APPOINTMENT.

The supreme court has decided that Governor Pattison had the right to appoint a successor to Ex-Treasurer Bardsley and that W. Redwood Wright is therefore the treasurer, which Richard G. Oellers, the appointee of city councils must step down and out.

The decree is as follows: The judgment is reversed and judgment is now entered for the Commonwealth on the demurer, and it is further considered and adjudged by the court, that the defendent, Richard G. Oellers, be and he hereby is ousted from the office of county treasurer designated as city treasurer of Philadelphia, and from the fees and emoluments thereof." The decree was signed by Chief Justice Paxon and Associate Justices McCullum, Clark and Sterret. Associate Justices Mitchell, Williams and Green dissented from the opinion of the majority of the court. With the decree was handed down a lengthy opinion by Chief Justice Paxon and a dissenting opinion by Justices Mitchell and Williams.

The basis of the chief jnstice's opinion was that the supreme court had already decided as similar the case when they decreed the governor's right to fill the office of city controller by appointment in the emergency of the incumbent resigning or dying. In commenting on the case the chief justice says: "If this was a new question or one involving a new principle, we might feel it necessary to discuss it at some length; as, however, it is a mere threshing of old straw, an elaboration is not requisite. Every question now presented was raised and decided in Taggart vs. Commonwealth. It is true that the contention was over the office of controller, but this makes no essential difference, as the same law applies to each. Both offices have been changed by article fourteen, section one of the constitution, and by the act of March 31, 1876, from a mere city or municipal office, which the legislature may destroy at will, to a county office resting upon the organic law, and which is beyond the power of the legislature to abolish. The chief justice then reviewed the former decision of the court against Mr. Taggart in his contest for the controllership and concluded by entering the decree of the court ousting Oellers.

In dissenting from the opinion of the majority of the court the principal contention of Justices Williams and Mitchell was that the office of county treasurer was abolished by the act of consolidation and the office of city treasurer thereby created, and that therefore councils has power to fill the vacancy.

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excess, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Wm RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER

CURES ALL DISEASES.

It is conceded beyond a doubt that fermentation (microbes) is the cause of all disease, and we claim that no medicine can cure disease unless it has the combined qualities of a BLOOD PURIFIER, ANTISEPTIC and TONIC. This powerful combination stops fermentation and arrests decay, thereby assisting nature to cure. We will mail you circulars free, explaining the germ theory of disease.

Attorney General Hensel Vindicated.

Attorney General William Uhler Hensel's advice to Governor Pattison in the matter of the choice of a treasurer to succeed John Bardsley has been sustained and approved by the supreme court. Maybe the Republican organs that have been prattling about criminal court lawyers will now transfer their insane abuse to the judges of the supreme court, whose opinion as to the very important question coincide and agree with that of Attorney General Hensel.—Hazleton Plainspeaker.

Don't Be Gloomy.

Those who are the victims of mercurial poisoning, or who are suffering from mercurial rheumatism, are inclined to take a gloomy view of life when, as the the poet says, "Winter is folding its white tents and spring getting its thunderstorms together." Yet these victims have no reason to despair. S. S. S. is a sure remedy for all forms of mercurial poisoning. Though it is purely a vegetable medicine, it is powerful, indeed, when called on to chase mercury, and the last lingering effects of mercury, out of the system. It performs the work with neatness and dispatch, as thousands of testimonials show.

Lost Four Cows.

Moses Hower has been very unfortunate during the past week in losing four of his fine milch cows. A former occupant of his tenement house had used paris green for some purpose, and having a lot left put it away in a vessel in the cellar. The present occupant when cleaning up this spring found the poison and threw it over the fence into a field where Mr Hower pastured his cows. The cattle found it and ate enough to kill them. One cannot be to careful with poisons of any kind.—News Item.

Cyclone In Berks.

ENORMOUS DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

READING, Penna., June 17.—A hail and wind storm of unusual severity passed over a portion of Berks county last night. The wind was terrific and carried everything before it, The track of the storm was only about half a mile wide, but it traversed several townships, doing great damage to the crops. The shedding at the Amityville church was lifted up and carried some forty feet. It was completely destroyed. A number of barns and other buildings were unroofed. Trees were uprooted in every direction. Not a farm in the vicinity of Amityville escaped. On the farm of ex-County Commissioner Samuel G. Hatfield, in Douglass township, the storm was very severe. Several of his buildings were upset and trees were blown down. In Amity and Douglass townships fences were lifted out of the ground and lie strewn over the fields. The rain fell in sheets, washing out corn and potato fields. There was also considerable damage caused by hail.

At Bernville several farmhouses were struck by lightning and slight damage done. All around Bernville hail fell as large as shellbarks, and some of the fields were covered to the depth of several inches. while the country presented a winter scene. Trees were uprooted, telephone poles prostrated, and fences carried away, and apple and other trees stripped of their fruit, and cornfields devastated. Near Douglassville, this county, barns belonging to John Boyer, John Glass and several others were unroofed Trees were uprooted and fences scattered Broadcast.

VOLTAIRE'S DEFINITION

Of a doctor—"as one that pours drugs of which he knows little, into a body of which he knows less, in order to cure diseases concerning which he knows nothing," is certainly not true now—since the germ theory explains disease and impure blood is found in all. Cactus Blood Cure is the one only vegetable neutraliser and eliminator of all blood taints.

"Can the character be read from the handwriting?" Most assuredly it can. Everyone can remember being influenced favorably or unfavorably by the penmanship of some unknown person, and has been astonished to find how true the conclusions were; and some of the world's foremost thinkers have maintained that the handwriting furnishes a more exact key to the character than the head, face or form. Character-reading from handwriting is a fascinating study; and if you wish to learn all about it you must read the excellent and profusely illustrated article, "How to Read Character by Handwiriting," by Prof. Nelson Thorpe, published in the July number of Demorest's Family Magazine, and you will be stil more interested in the subject. In the same number is a splendid article on "Chili," which is particularly apropos at present; "Foes Afield: Plants Poisonous to the Stomach" is quite as seasonable, and everyone can recognize the plants from the accurate illustrations; in "Summer Outdoor Games: Lawn Tennis, Badminton, Colors," they are so clearly described and illustrated that the veriest novice can learn how to play them without other instructions; and the amateur china-painter may rival the professional by following the directions given in "The Use of Matt Colors." Besides, there are stories and poems, and over 200 illustrations, including a superb water-color, a French costume study under the Empire, and the numerous departments are full to overflowing with valuable matter. Briefly, this number fully maintains the justly earned prestige of being the Model Family Magazine, and is published for $2 per year by W. JENNINGS DEMOREST, 15 East 14th St., New York.

A ROYAL CO-RESPONDENT

Has Wales Been Named by Lady Brooke's Lord?

THERE'S A REPORT TO THAT EFFECT

Secretary Stanhope Apologizes for the Prince in the House of Commons—No Action Will Be Taken Against His Royal Highness.

LONDON, June 16.—There is a rumor today, which cannot be confirmed, that Lord Brooke, son of the Earl of Warwick, has filed a petition for divorce from his wife on the ground of adultery, the Prince of Wales being charged as co-respondent. It is a matter of common knowledge that heretofore both the prince and Lord and Lady Brooke have maintained that the intimacy between the prince and Lady Brooke was platonic.

Apologizing for the Prince.

The baccarat explanations in parliament last evening were what was expected from Stanhope, an aristocrat of the aristocrats, and all the more intense in his devotion to royalty because, being a younger son of the noble house of Stanhope, he has no prospects except what royal favor chooses to bestow. There was an ominous silence in the Liberal and Radical benches when Stanhope concluded his quasi-apology for the prince with the statement that the government did not propose to do anything about the matter. The squires and lordlings cheered, but their applause had a hollow sound in contrast with the evident displeasure of the representatives of the popular party.

The Prince Hadn't Seen It.

In his explanation of the Tranby Croft matter, Secretary of War Stanhope said last evening in the house of commons: "The army regulations in question had undoubtedly never been specially brought to the notice of the Prince of Wales, but when they had been, and looking back at all the circumstances of the case, the Prince of Wales saw his error of judgment in not requiring Sir William Gordon Cumming to make an immediate report to his commanding officer. In this view I concur, but I should like to express my personal opinion that, had any one else suddenly heard that a friend who had greatly distinguished himself in the service had been accused of such an offense, he would certainly hesitate before at once adopting a course that would bring an immediate and irretrievable blight on his whole future."

Expelled from the Army.

LONDON, June 13.—The Official Gazette under date of June 10 announces that the name of Sir William Gordon Cumming has been erased from the list of officers in the army, as her majesty has no further occasion for his services.

Cumming Married.

LONDON, June 11.—The marriage of Sir William Gordon Cumming to Miss Garner, of New York, created the greatest sensation here, and has immensely helped Cumming in the popular estimation. Opinion is now much more favorable to the baronet than after the verdict, and Sir William and his bride were heartily cheered as they took the train for Scotland.

Since the opening of the baccarat scandal case in court Sir Gordon Cumming has denied that he and Miss Garner were to wed, and then came the statement that Friday last Miss Garner had herself obtained the necessary official authority, and that the wedding would be solemnized at once.

The Prince of Wales Arraigned.

Never in history, at least since the Cromwell period, has the royal house of England been subjected to such general criticism and condemnation in the person of the heir to the throne. The leading newspapers, irrespective of party, in London and the provinces are united in arraigning the Prince of Wales for the low example he has given the public, and startling suggestions are given currency that the prince's kind of royalty is not suited to the age and to the people.

He Cheats at Baccarat.

LONDON, June 10.—The jury in the baccarat trial gave a verdict for the defendants in the libel suit of Sir William Gordon Cumming against Wilson and others. The jury was fifteen minutes in reaching its conclusion.

On the opening of court General Owen Williams, one of the defendants, attempted to protest against Sir Edward Clarke's attack upon him Monday, but Lord Coleridge silenced him.

The lord chief justice then began his charge, which was favorable to the defendants. He said that if the jury found that the defendants in what they said about Sir William Gordon Cumming had spoken the truth they should render a verdict in the defendants' favor.

If, however, the jury believed the statements of the defendants to have been broadly untrue, and that the plaintiff did not commit the acts ascribed to him, the verdict must be for Sir William.

Sir William Unmoved.

Sir William received the verdict against him without any show of feeling. He was cheered as he went away. George Lewis was accompanying Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Lycett Green from the court when, on reaching the center of the lobby, hissing and booing began and swelled into a roar.

General Sympathy for Cumming.

In face of the verdict it may seem curious that general sympathy is expressed for Sir William Gordon Cumming, yet such is the fact. He left court in company with Lord Middleton, his brother-in-law.

The effect of the verdict on military circles is that Sir William Gordon Cumming, major and lieutenant colonel of the Scots Fusilier Guards, will doubtless be cashiered from the army, and expelled from the Marlborough club, the Guards club, the Turf club, and any other social organizations to which he may belong.

England's Copyright Regulations.

FAREWELL TO SCHOOL LIFE.

Columbia Boys Graduated—Commencement at Other Institutions.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Amid a shower of flowers and the waving of handkerchiefs from many a fair one, 323 Columbia boys stepped upon the stage at Music hall last evening and received from President Seth Low a bit of parchment. One hundred and thirty-one received certificates making them physicians and surgeons, sixty-three were added to the army of lawyers, fifty were given the title bachelor of arts; thirty, mining engineers; forty, master of arts, and nine more proudly heard themselves proclaimed doctors of philosophy.

T.; Osborne, Schoeffle, Howard, Bertsch, Bush, Donovan, Lindsley, E.; Bennett, Crabbs, Glasgow, Armstrong, Jarvis, Heavey, Hirsch, Hine, C. D.; Frazier, Hamilton, R. S.; Upton, Smith, H. Eight essays were delivered by eight bright young ladies—Miss Annie Applegate, Miss Caroline E. GENIAL FRITZ IS GONE.

Death of the Famous German Dialect Comedian, J. K. Emmet.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Joe Emmet, the comedian, died at the Storm King House, Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, yesterday afternoon of pneumonia. He went there in bad health about a week ago, but his condition was not considered really critical until Saturday. Joseph Kline Emmet was born of Irish-German parents in St. Louis about fifty years ago.

The man's magnetism was simply marvelous. Possessed of a handsome form, a splendid set of teeth, a pair of roguish, laughing eyes and a most captivating smile, Joe Emmet would not be on a stage five minutes before every man, woman and child in the audience would have an idea that he was playing to him or her alone. His voice, though slightly nasal, was very melodious, and as he threw his whole soul into his work with an abandon that was delightful, the results he achieved were unapproachable by all imitators, and he naturally had many.

An Interesting Revolutionary Relic.

LEBANON, Conn., June 16.—The Connecticut Historical society took possession yesterday of a most interesting and valuable Revolutionary relic, the building used by Governor Jonathan Trumbull as an office and executive seat during the war of the Revolution. Imposing ceremonies were observed, in which the society was assisted by the Connecticut branches of the National Sons of the Revolution. Addresses were delivered by Senator Hawley and Rev. Leonard W. Bacon, D. D. The building was recently presented to the state by Mrs. Wattles.

Commissioner Harvey Resigns.

TRENTON, June 16.—G. B. M. Harvey, New Jersey's commissioner of banking and insurance, resigned his office yesterday. Mr. Harvey's reason for resigning, he writes, is that he cannot afford to give the amount of time which the work demands for the remuneration offered. Governor Abbett urged him to remain, but without effect. The view is expressed that the National Building and Loan association "cannot be relied upon to furnish opportunities for safe investment."

Will Fight the Synod.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The east end congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian church have decided to secede. The members will stick to their pastor, Rev. O. B. Milligan, whose suspension by the synod the other day caused him to quit the denomination. Last night the congregation reorganized, re-elected Mr. Milligan pastor at a salary of $1,500, and determined to fight the synod to retain the $30,000 church which they now possess.

Wise's Fist Killed Him.

CANTON, O., June 15.—Charles Henderson, a colored laborer, was instantly killed last night by a blow from the fist, inflicted by Joseph Wise, a saloon keeper, during a quarrel. Wise was arrested, and claims that Henderson made an effort to assault him with a railroad spike wrapped in paper.

Rioting at Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 16.—Part of the police rebelled last night and defied Chief Rylands. The rebellious policemen, all of whom are Democrats, refused to obey a Republican mayor. There was a riot at the station house and the militia was called out. More trouble is feared.

Mrs. Crary Gets a Divorce.

BROOKLYN, June 13.—The jury in the divorce suit of Mrs. William P. Crary, daughter of ex-Mayor Howell, of this city, against her husband, decided in the plaintiff's favor. The jury found that Crary had been criminally intimate with his wife's cousin, Miss Wilhelmina Tunstall.

The Itata Starts for San Diego.

A Broker's Fatal Fall.

AT ST. ANTHONY'S SHRINE.

The Feast Celebrated Yesterday and Many Alleged Cures Performed.

PITTSBURG, June 15.—The Feast of St. Anthony was celebrated at the Church of the Most Holy Name at Mount Troy Sunday, and thousands crowded to obtain the blessing of the modern miracle worker, Father Mollinger, and to kiss the gold reliquary containing the relics of St. Anthony. After all of the four masses Father Mollinger passed out through the great crowds of sick, lame and blind that surrounded the sacred edifice, and gave his blessing to the people who knelt before him, eager to touch his robes and to kiss his hands as he passed along.

There were many who proclaimed in joyous tones that their suffering had been alleviated since worshipping at the little church now famous all over the land. Father Mollinger was so exhausted by his almost ceaseless labors for the past week that he could scarcely totter along yesterday. He says, however, that he will not take a rest until every sick person has left his church.

An investigation was instituted as to the nature of the remedies, aside from faith, prescribed by Father Mollinger. Many were found who indignantly resented the mildest insinuation that Father Mollinger does not possess the power to perform genuine miracles.

On the other hand, many were found who openly denounced the proceedings on Mount Troy as being sacrilegious, as nonsensical and as an imposition upon people whose religious zeal leads them to believe anything the reputed worker of miracles may tell them. These non-believers are not confined to Protestants. Physicians and others learned in medicine also criticise the father in the matter of the prescriptions issued. They claim that the medicines are nothing but what is known as "proprietary preparations." They also claim that he uses only two prescriptions in his practice. One of the two goes in every instance. They are on slips of paper, printed with rubber stamps. For lung trouble one gets cod liver oil. For other ailments the ingredients are phosphate of iron, cocaine, quinine, etc. For the formula used only one druggist in Allegheny City has the key, and has a monopoly in filling the priest's prescriptions.

When asked whether he attributed the cures effected by him to medicine or to faith Father Mollinger replied: "I have studied medicine and understand it thoroughly, but I think a blessing has a great deal to do with its effect. If a meal is served and God's blessing is asked the food is better, and there is no doubt that the blessing accompanying the medicine has beneficial results. The faith the patients have in the treatment also materially aids in their recovery."

HE STOLE $372,000.

The Big Defalcation of a Life Insurance Company's Agent.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Julio Merzbacher, who with Joaquin Sanchez conducted the West Indian and Spanish American branches of the business of the New York Life Insurance company, has stolen from the company off and on about $372,000, which he used in speculation in Wall street.

This money was misappropriated from funds in the possession of Messrs. Sanchez & Merzbacher, who were the general agents of the company, so far as the Spanish and South American business was concerned. Immense sums of money passed through the hands of these men. In a single year it was an ordinary thing for them to receive for the company $2,000,000 in premiums. Sanchez & Merzbacher have built up a magnificent business, and both were regarded by the company as thoroughly reliable men. Merzbacher has fled.

THE DEADLOCK AT HARTFORD.

The Senate Met, but the Senators Could Not Agree.

HARTFORD, June 16.—The senate met yesterday at 1 o'clock and at once took a recess until 2:30 o'clock. The Democrats held a caucus on the appropriation bills.

When the senate met in the afternoon an attempt was made by the Republicans to have the bill instructing the controller to draw his order for all just claims against the state put upon its passage. The Democrats, however, voted against it and had the bill referred to the committee on state expenditures. The senate adjourned until June 29.

The Juries Were Illegally Drawn.

WHEELING, June 16.—A sensation has been caused in legal circles of the state by the discovery that over four-fifths of the juries drawn since the session of the legislature were drawn illegally. The legislature modified the jury laws, but owing to a misunderstanding the changes were generally disregarded. Dozens of important trials will be rendered void and thousands of dollars lost. In some circuits the judges have refused to hold court until the new law is tested.

He Gives His Body to the Scalpel.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 15.—Eugene Steyr, aged about thirty, of New York, committed suicide at the West End hotel Saturday night by turning on the gas in his room. His body was found Sunday. A letter in a memorandum book requests that the body be sent to Dr. Schweiz, of 26 East Twentieth street, New York city, for scientific purposes. A long, rambling letter was also in the book, which stated that he intended to commit suicide at the Garden theater.

Pushing the Land Bill.

LONDON, June 16.—In the house of commons the Irish land purchase bill passed a third reading by a vote of 229 to 96. The house of commons has agreed that for the remainder of the session government measures shall precede all others. All will be dropped except the Irish land bill, the education, the factories, the public health and the renewal of gold coinage bills.

He Wanted a Death Sentence.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The jury in the case of Ferdinand Legrano, charged with the murder of Charles Mauro on April 20, 1891, returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. When Legrano was informed of the nature of the verdict he exclaimed: "It's a humbug. I don't want imprisonment for life. I want a death sentence!"

Ex-Senator McDonald Dying.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 16.—There has been a very decided change for the worse in ex-Senator McDonald's condition within the past twelve hours, and he is now so enfeebled that no hope is entertained of his recovery. He suffers very little pain and is quite cheerful.

Shot His Little Brother.

THE COWBOY KNOWS!

Trying to hold a drove of cattle together in a drenching rain means an amount of exposure which few can withstand without serious results. If sickness does not follow, it will be found that such hardship usually brings on rheumatism and similar complaints. At such times a "Fish Brand Slicker" is worth its weight in gold, and is invaluable to any one exposed to stormy weather. For all saddle uses, you want a Pommel Slicker, which keeps the entire saddle, pommel, and cantle dry, and completely envelopes the rider from head to foot. It can't get wet, whatever the weather. And, besides keeping him dry, it keeps him warm. Every range rider has one. Why shouldn't you? Beware of worthless imitations; every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

What was it, John,

That made your face so free and clear from pimples, said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It is the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

A Real Balsam is Kemp's Balsam

The dictionary says, "A balsam is a thick, pure aromatic substance flowing from trees." Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is the only cough medicine that is a real balsam. Many thin, watery cough remedies are called balsams, but such are not. Look through a bottle of Kemp's Balsam and notice what a pure, thick preparation it is. If you cough use Kemp's Balsam. At all druggists'. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

A Cat Adopts Young Squirrels.

Freddy Gaynor, of Cold Spring, L. I., captured a nest of young gray squirrels in the woods. He took them home and soon after discovered that the motherly old cat had a litter of kittens in the barn. A bright idea came to young Gaynor, and he took away the kittens in the old cat's absence and placed the squirrels in their place. The old cat soon returned, but never seemed to observe the change. She continues to pay the little squirrels the same attention as she did the kittens, and administers to their wants with all the motherly care with which she is endowed. She shows great affection for her little family, but of late, as they have grown older, wears a surprised look on her face as she sits by and watches some of the strange antics of the little long tailed squirrels while at play.

Maine Law Enforced.

A Portland, Me., special says: The enforcement of the prohibitory law has now reached the point that druggists do not venture to take the risk of having any kind of liquor in stock for the compounding of medicines. Several seizures have been made from druggists, and they consider it too dangerous to keep the article at all. Even if the court should discharge a druggist accused of keeping liquor for sale the cost would be large and the kind of advertising received not paying.

This rigid enforcement of the law has as yet not gone beyond the limits of Portland, but temperance people are threatening to carry it all over the State. They propose to have a strict enforcement of the law at the summer resorts this year, claiming that this is demanded not only in the interests of temperance, but in order to show to the outside public that "prohibition does prohibit" in Maine.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
